DR. JOHN BULL'S
Smith's Tonic Syrup
FEVER and AGUE
Or CHILLS and FEVER,
AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of KENT'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient. Use no other.

To the marvelous cures and discoveries made by Dr. Liebig & Co. are due all the great successes they have had. In 1881 they discovered the complication, Prostatorrhoea, resulting from youthful imprudence and excesses of maturity, or unskillfully treated cases of a special nature, that from time immemorial had prevented thousands from being cured of nervous debility, physical weakness and unnatural losses from the system; resulting from the follies of youth. Dr. Liebig & Co use every successful remedial agent known to modern scientists favoring the school of Homeopathy and Electricism, taking from the Allopathic all that is useful, and adapting surgical instruments to the various ailments and deformities, attaching to appliances, magnetism and electricity. # DEATH BY FIRE.

A Disastrous Conflagration in Buffalo, N. Y.

THIRTY PEOPLE LOSE THEIR LIVES.

The Night Clerk's Story of How it Happened—Heroic Work of the Firemen—Partial List of those Burned—Loss, $400,000.

A GREAT FIRE.

Scenes and Incidents of the Fatal Fire at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, March 18.—The Richmond hotel and St. James hall were burned early this morning. The loss is fully $300,000. A number of lives are reported lost and many persons injured.

The building is situated at the corner of Main and Eagle streets, extending through to Washington street. The fire was discovered at 3:30 this morning in the new Richmond hotel and an alarm was sounded and the fire department responded promptly. The house contained a large number of guests and their heart-rending shrieks could plainly be heard. Ladders were raised as soon as possible and as many as could be were taken out, and a large number of them were unable to effect their escape. At 4 o'clock the entire Richmond hotel and St. James hall and other property in the block were doomed to speedy destruction. The whole place burned like tinder and the corridor to center of the building acted as a great funnel, and as the flames streamed upwards the guests found themselves imprisoned by walls of fire.

THE SCREAMS OF THE INMATES

Could be heard for blocks, and at many of the windows they could be seen in their night clothes calling wildly for help. At one of the third floor windows two guests were seen by the crowd to fall back into the flames; one man jumped from the fifth floor to the roof of a two story wooden building adjoining, and was seriously injured. The number of those injured can not exactly be known. John Reese, of Olean, N. Y., was terribly burned about the hands and wrists. A number of insurance men were in the building, and several of them badly injured, among them are W. J. McKay, Niagara Falls, C. M. Dubois, of Syracuse, and W. S. Davey, of Rochester, who escaped with bad burns. Clinton Bidwell, of Pittsburg, was badly burned. At the hospital are Charles Darr, of New York, hands and feet badly burned; H. B. Smith, of the North British insurance company, of New York, hands and feet burned; Edward Wheelen, of New York, hands in a terrible condition. They are not fatally injured. Fitch hospital contains eight men and one woman, and all are in a bad condition and more or less seriously injured. All are from out of town except the woman. Two of the injured are at the Sisters' hospital, and there are also four injured persons at the general hospital.

The rapidity of the fire, cutting off the means of escape, led some persons to leap for their lives from windows, while others got down fire escapes or on ladders raised by the fire department. The shrieks and cries of the poor people in the upper stories of the burning structure were heart-rending and one man, mad with terror, leaped from the third-story window and was picked up from the stone sidewalk on Main street a mangled and bleeding corpse. Several of those who succeeded in making their escape were badly injured and burned, and some of these will probably die, and those more fortunate escaped with slight injuries. It is now believed that several persons were burned to death.

STORY OF THE NIGHT CLERK AND BELL-BOY.

There were 125 persons in the hotel, seventy of whom were transient guests, eight boarders and the remainder porters, bell-boys and families of the proprietors and clerks. Twenty-two of these were rescued from windows by firemen, and a large number made their escape by other means. Twenty-two are at hospitals. The origin of the fire is not as yet known. Wm. H. Alport, night clerk, says the fire started in the cloak room, under the main stairway, at 3:50 o'clock. He said: "There was nobody up but myself, the night porter and the bell-boy, and I pulled all four of the fire alarms on the different floors and the people came flying down stairs in their night clothes. The fire followed the elevator, and inside of five minutes it reached the top floor, and I rushed out of the door after doing all I could."

The bell-boy, Plonmer, tells his experience as follows: "I was dusting the reading room when I heard a shout and saw the flames coming up the stairway from the basement. Mr. Alport and I turned on the hose under the main stairway, and we straightened the hose out and turned the valve, but the water would not run. Then we gave the alarm, and the watchman and I got a plank and broke in the Eagle street entrance to the hotel, and then we got a plank under the fire escape of Eagle street and helped the people down. I think there were about eighty-four guests in the house."

THE TERRORS OF THE DISASTER.

The spread of the flames was frightful in its rapidity. The elevator shaft served as a flue for the flames, and the whole structure was enveloped in a few moments; and as the guests were aroused and saw the interior exit cut off, they turned to the windows, and could be seen standing out clear and vivid before the lurid background of the flames, and their screams were horrible to hear, and could be heard for blocks. The firemen did noble work, and confined the fire to the limits of the three buildings named. The work of rescue had many exciting incidents. The telegraph wires were, as usual, in the way of the ladder brigade, and much valuable time was lost in getting ladders past them. The fire, which was under control by 5 o'clock, was confined to the Richmond hotel and museum proper, and the saloon of James Creighton and the cigar store of J. C. Palacio, on Main street.

Hugo V. Altshul, of New York, assisted a number of women from the burning building, and he then made his own escape by leaping from one building to another until he reached the corner of Washington and North Division streets, and thus gained the street. Wm. J. Mann, one of the proprietors of the house, and his wife, had a thrilling experience in getting out. Mrs. Mann was terribly burned about the head, arms and legs, and their little daughter Jane was also burned. Five girls, who roomed on the fifth floor, made a rope out of bed clothes and hung it out of the window, but none seemed to have the courage to start. At last one of the five took hold and swung down to the window ledge, from which she was rescued. Three others came down in the same manner, and then the fifth girl started down and had gone but a little distance when the rope parted, and down she went, four stories, but, strange to say, she was not killed, but her legs were horribly bruised, her back badly injured, and her face and arms were in a frightful condition from burns. Mark Osborne, day clerk and assistant manager of the hotel, is missing. It is believed he perished.

MORE SICKENING DETAILS.

Wm. A. Haven, of Helena, Montana, was burned about the hands, feet and face, and he is suffering from the shock. He is chief engineer of the Northern Pacific. R. H. Humes occupied a room on the third floor; he was awakened by the electric bells, and, after arousing several people on the same floor, jumped through the window to the kitchen roof, and there everything was in flames, and others were on the same roof. He made a rush for the Eagle street door, going through the kitchen skylight and out through the flames, and escaped. He left five persons on the kitchen roof, and thinks they must all have perished, as they did not attempt to follow him through the flames. Four are dead, and among those who jumped from the building are Wm. Purcell, a broker of this city, and an unknown man and unknown woman.

The burned building was erected in 1856 for hotel purposes, and was called St. James hotel. The hotel was not a success, financially, and after a struggling existence it passed, in 1861, into the hands of the Young Men's Christian Association. After the association gave up its rooms in the old building, in October last, Robert Stafford, S. P. Whitaker and W. J. Mann took a lease of the property for hotel purposes for a term of years. Whitaker reports that a large amount of diamonds were in the hotel last night. E. Robinson of Lambert & Co., had a stock valued at $50,000 deposited in the safe. A Mr. Adler had in his room $30,000 worth, and a Mr. Smith had another considerable stock but the amount was not known.

The body of one woman recovered this morning was identified as that of Kate Wolf of Lockport. Mary Welsh, servant at the Richmond, is missing, as well as another servant, and it is believed they must be included among the dead. F. A. Kann and F. D. Ramsey of New York, who were so seriously burned, are not expected to live.

MORE EXPERIENCES OF ESCAPE.

ROCHESTER, March 18.—Several survivors of the hotel fire at Buffalo are in this city. Winfield S. Dawes was seriously burned about the face and head, his hair was all burned off and his right foot was badly burned. He had a room on the second floor and was awakened by the bell. He attempted to escape by a hall, but was driven back by the flames, and he was rescued from his window by the firemen. Max Dahlman, clothier, escaped by jumping two stories on to an adjoining building. W. P. Lamp, an insurance adjuster, narrowly escaped with his life. He was taken from the fire escape.

LATEST LIST OF THE DEAD AND DYING.

As far as can be ascertained the dead are as follows: Katie Kent, Minnie Kelly and Katie Pearce, servants; Wilson Purcell, Mark Osborne, day clerk at the hotel; a Mr. Johnson, a Toronto railway man; Kate Wolf, a servant, of Lockport. The dying are: Jacob Kahn, New York; Henry Rumsey, New York; Maggie Mulrach, Buffalo; Mary Nolan, Buffalo, and Edward Wheelan, Newburgh. Others who were seriously burned or injured are as follows: J. Y. French, Scranton, Pa.; F. M. Moore, Cleveland, O.; W. A. Haven, Helena, Mont.; C. W. Dubois, Syracuse, N. Y.; W. J. Mann, Mrs. Mann, Jennie Mann, Buffalo; Miss Barse, Olean, N. Y.; Matt Shannon, Charles Clinton, Bidwell; Minnie Wellers, Mrs. Katie Pierce, Nellie Welch, Nettie Hurvey, all of Buffalo; Barry Davies, George F. Michaels, both of New York; and W. J. Mackay, Niagara Falls. A servant girl named Welch is believed also to be among the dead. The walls of the burned building are a menace to life, and until they are razed and the ruins cooled no search for bodies can be made. It is undoubtedly a fact that at least thirty persons perished.

LOSSES AND INSURANCE.

Total loss by the fire will be $400,000. Of this amount the Buffalo library loses $130,000 on the hotel, museum and buildings, which were insured for $80,000. Fuller & Townsend, clothiers, were insured for $45,000. Their stock was a total loss and valued at $60,000. Peter Paul & Bro. and Albrich & Kingley, stationers, each lose $40,000, with $30,000 insurance. Several minor losses were sustained.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

POLITICAL CRITICISM OF CLEVELAND.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Congressman John Milton Glover, a democrat, of St. Louis, is in the city, on a tour through the state. "I am not here on matters in any way connected with politics," said he this morning. "I came simply on a pleasure tour; but in my several interviews with leading democrats of this city I find Mr. Cleveland is strongly favored for the presidential nomination. From what I hear he may be expected to carry the delegation against any man that might be presented to the convention. If he receives the support of the Pacific states I know of quite a number of votes that will be given him in the East. A man who goes into a convention with that kind of backing is bound to receive some recognition. You will excuse me for saying what I think of Mr. Cleveland's chances for renomination. I can only say his administration has not only been very unsatisfactory to the party in the East, but especially on this coast. It has been strictly a New York administration on financial and every other policy. One thing is certain, if Gov. Hill of New York is a candidate for the nomination, and there is little doubt he will be, he will carry the New York delegation against Cleveland unless things change greatly."

"How do you regard the situation of your party in this state?"

"I find that President Cleveland's administration is very unpopular among the democracy here, not particularly on account of his appointments, but because of his policy on the silver question and other important matters in which this coast is deeply interested. In conclusion I want to say that I do not wish to be understood as fighting Mr. Cleveland's re-election, for if he is nominated again I shall support him, but I think there are men who would be more acceptable to the party."

A NEW CONSUMPTIVE CURE.

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—At a meeting of the hospital committee of the board of guardians of the poor to-day Dr. T. N. McLaughlin, physician-in-chief of the Philadelphia hospital, presented a report of the success in the treatment adopted about a month ago for patients in that institution suffering from consumption. He said that so far the success of the treatment was almost marvelous, and in cases which had agreed to submit to the methods adopted no other has been used. Dr. McLaughlin first obtained the idea from a paper read before the College of Science at a recent meeting in Paris by one of the professors in the university of Lyons. It was recommended so highly and showed such surprising results in France that Dr. McLaughlin decided to test it in the hospital. He explained the treatment to the patients and thirty of them agreed to submit to the operation, and to these patients who were considered to be suffering from the last stages of consumption, two rectal injections of carbonic acid gas prepared by the process given by the French physician, were given each day, all medicine being abandoned. The patients at once began to show signs of improvement, the night sweats ceased as if by magic, the almost constant cough from which they suffered vanished, the excretions of the body were regular and became natural and the appetite returned.

REORGANIZATION OF A RAILROAD.

PITTSBURG, March 18.—"You may say that arrangements for the reorganization of the Pittsburg & Western railway have been consummated," said James Callery, president of the company, this afternoon at the Monongahela house. "Solon Humphreys, R. K. Paige, S. W. Oliver and myself are now awaiting the arrival of Mr. Thomas M. King to complete a few details which have not been attended to. The plan will require an advance of $5,000,000, the greater part of which must be paid promptly, in order to purchase $1,700,000 of bonds not taken by subscribers. We shall not be included in any deal that the Baltimore & Ohio may make. If the Delaware & Hudson, Delaware & Lackawanna or Lehigh Valley wishes to come to us, all right."

STEAM CAR-HEATING APPARATUS.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The superintendent of the motive power of the New York Central railway said this afternoon that the trial of the steam car-heating apparatus, which was made yesterday on the train running from Peekskill to this city, demonstrated the feasibility of the scheme. The trouble of connecting pipes between the cars was overcome by the use of a brass telescope and ball and socket joint. Steam is used directly from the locomotive boiler through a pressure-reducing valve, and a strain of five pounds is carried on the pipes. The main difficulties hitherto encountered in adopting steam heating on railways have been in connecting the pipes between cars and reducing the pressure of the steam.

THE BRIDGE WAS A MECHANICAL DEFORMITY.

BOSTON, March 18.—In the investigation of the Bussey bridge disaster to-day, T. D. Moses, civil engineer, declared that he had always regarded the bridge as a mechanical deformity and had within two weeks warned the railroad officials that a disaster might occur.

COLONEL BUFFALO BILL.

OMAHA, March 18.—Gov. Thayer has commissioned W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) as aide-de-camp on his staff, with the rank of colonel, and also as commissioner of Nebraska to the American exhibition in London.

SOUTH CAROLINA FIRE.

ROCK HILL, S. C., March 18.—The postoffice and eleven mercantile firms were burned out last night. Loss, $140,000.

ENGLAND.

THE LONDON CORPORATION.

LONDON, March 18.—The parliamentary committee appointed to investigate the charges against the London corporation, held its first session to-day. Lord Hartington presided. Menfierth, formerly a member of parliament, deposed that he had examined the accounts of the corporation, and he found that a special committee had been appointed in 1882 to oppose the reform bill, and that there was expended by the committee a total of £50,000. He said practically that the city accounts had never been audited, notwithstanding the fact that the corporation employed so-called auditors, who, witness added, were liverymen without a practical knowledge of their duties. Meetings held in support of the reform bill were raided by roughs, who had been supplied with thousands of forged tickets of admission by the corporation officials. A man named Hodge made a statement to the effect that he had been engaged to bribe roughs to break up the reform meetings. Mr. Scott, city chamberlain, being sworn, presented a written official protest against the production of the corporation's accounts, on the ground that the house of commons exceeded its rights in demanding the accounts and acted in a manner derogatory to rights and privileges of the corporation.

STRONG LANGUAGE.

LONDON, March 18.—The Times asks why the Parnell party do not try to refute the charges made in its article on Parnellism and crime. It says none of the party has taken legal action, although if the charges were proved to be untrue, heavy damages might be asked. Can Gladstone and his friend persist in telling the English and Scotch leaders that it is safe and honorable to surrender the government of Ireland to the allies and instruments of anti-British plotters in America.

OFFENSIVE PUBLICATION.

LONDON, March 18.—Two hundred and thirty-five members of the house of commons have signed a memorial in favor of the prevention of the publication of offensive details in divorce cases. They will meet next week to decide how to bring the subject before parliament.

STATE DISPATCHES.

BOY BURGLARS—PERSONAL.

SALEM, March 18.—Three boys, of ages ranging from 13 to 14 years, walked up to Eola Wednesday and broke into a warehouse there and stole therefrom three sacks of flour, which they carried off to a farmhouse near by and sold. Constable Groves of Eola precinct came over from Polk county to-day and arrested the youthful burglars and took them to Dallas, where he lodged them in jail. They will be examined to-morrow.

IMPORTANT N. P. LAND DECISION.

The Attorney-General Rules in Favor of the Railroad—The Assertion Made that the B. & O. Negotiations are Completed.

MISSOURI RIVER GORGE.

Northern Pacific Trains Cannot Cross the Missouri for Several Days.

BISMARCK, March 18.—Washburne gorge broke last night, and early this morning the river began to rise rapidly and a gorge was formed below the city. The ice carried everything with it, and struck the immense warehouse of the Northern Pacific, one of the largest in the world, and the workmen narrowly escaped drowning, and in less than two hours from the time of the gorge the water was in the second stories of river boarding houses which had been built on what was considered high ground. The warehouse, which is nearly 700 feet in length, was moved bodily over thirty feet and sent crashing against the bluffs, and the loss on this building will be over $15,000. The meadow and south of Bismarck, comprising 6300 acres, is now one vast sea, and is flowing over a newly made channel by this body of surplus water at the rate of ten miles an hour. The river at this point, which is usually three miles wide, is now six miles wide. The Northern Pacific trains will hardly be able to cross the river for several days, and Bismarck will probably be the western terminus for a week. Supt. Graham attempted to go to Mandan, but the water on the west side of the river is flowing over the track four feet deep and fires in the engine were put out. Mandan is submerged and the people in the lower part of the city have been moving into the upper stories of their dwellings. All small dwellings on the banks of the stream have been swept away, and steamboats lying at Rockhaven are in danger. The high trestle of the Northern Pacific at this point has been damaged. At 4 o'clock the new channel, which the river has cut across the prairie, let out the ice, and the river is falling slowly, but the worst has not come. The ice went out at Fort Buford this morning with a rise of thirty feet, the highest ever known. This flood will not reach here until Saturday, when there will probably be terrible destruction.

TOWNS FLOODED.

BISMARCK, March 18.—Reports just received from the west state that there is great excitement and alarm among the people living along the Missouri river banks. Yellowstone and Little Missouri, and the prior rivers are full of ice and are inundating the country. More than thirty bridges on the Northern Pacific, between this point and Billings, have been swept away, and much damage has been occasioned by the floods. Passengers report that Miles City has been twice inundated within the last week, and report reaches here that the town is again under water. Water is now flowing in all the streets, and in one street in the center of the town it is more than ten feet deep, compelling business men to remain from their homes all night. At Medora the water in the Little Missouri has surrounded the extensive slaughter houses and refrigerators of Marquis de Mores, and Mandan, five miles west of here, is preparing for the worst. The Little Park river, just south of Mandan, is now open about twenty miles above its confluence with the Missouri, and when the ice in the latter stream breaks here Mandan will be inundated, as the city is built on the low ground. Dynamite shipped to this place will be used in blowing out the ice about the piers of the massive iron bridge, and every precaution is being taken to prevent disaster. There can be no protection for settlers along the banks for many miles south. Never in the history of the country has there been so much snow. The water is now pouring into the Missouri in immense torrents, and every creek is swelled. A slight break occurred here yesterday, but no gorge resulted and no damage done yet. If, however, breaks occur above here the damage will be enormous.

IMPORTANT N. P. LAND DECISION.

The Attorney-General Rules in Favor of the Railroad.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—In compliance with a request from the secretary of the interior, the attorney-general has rendered an opinion in the celebrated case of the Northern Pacific Railroad company vs. Guilford Miller, tried in the department of the interior, on an appeal from the decision of the commissioner of the general land office. The history of the case, briefly stated, is as follows: On December 29, 1884, Miller entered a homestead entry of the tract in question in the Walla Walla, W. T., land office. The tract so entered lies within forty miles of the line of the general route of said road, as shown by a map filed February 21, 1872, which filing under the granting act operated as a withdrawal from settlement and entry. On the definite location of the road, October 4, 1880, the land was found to be outside of the forty and fifty miles indemnity limit, and the withdrawal on the original route was continued as an indemnity withdrawal. The company elected the land October 17, 1883. The principal question at issue is whether the railroad indemnity withdrawals are authorized by law, or, in other words, whether the officers of the interior department had or has authority to withhold lands within indemnity limits from entry and settlement.

The attorney-general finds that such withdrawal does not rest upon any statutory provision, but upon the general authority of the land department, which has been recognized by congress and repeatedly affirmed by the supreme court of the United States, and can now only be regarded as too well established to be questioned. The land having been withdrawn since 1872, it follows, therefore, that Miller's entry was improperly allowed.

THE RAILROAD DEAL.

Benefits to be Derived by a Combination of the Terminal Company and the Baltimore and Ohio.

NEW YORK, March 18.—For the first time since the Baltimore & Ohio deal has been pending Sully to-day broke his silence so far as to say: "Yes, I see that other parties claim to have purchased the control of the Baltimore & Ohio. I think they have made a deposit on account. When the Terminal company decided not to exercise their option I told the Baltimore & Ohio people that while we unanimously desired to combine our terminal property with the Baltimore & Ohio property, yet we could not ask them to consider themselves in any way bound to leave the matter open. Therefore, if any disposition has been made, it is perfectly proper and right. I believe that the amalgamation of dividend-earning railroads into strong systems cannot but add strength, power and increased earnings, with resulting economies, if each separate property is self-supporting and revenue-producing. Thus, combining their traffic must add to their strength and net earnings of each part, provided, of course, that natural laws governing their traffic favor such a combination. There is nothing in this policy operating against the interests of the people. People do not want poor and weak roads, unable to do business safely. What the people want is strong and powerful railroad companies, with the means to furnish the very best appliances for the safe and comfortable carriage of passengers and freight. New Orleans is clamorous for fast mail service. How can it be afforded if it must pass over half a dozen different railroads, each having different interests, and naturally warring with each other. Combine these roads into one system, and you have a powerful corporation, anxious to serve the public, and to create and maintain the very best service, and thereby derive the best revenue. I think that time will yet bring Baltimore & Ohio into a terminal system. The terminal company now own 4500 miles of road, and an alliance of this road with the Baltimore & Ohio would be of immense value to that property, as well as to the city of Baltimore."

AGAIN ASSERTED THAT B. & O. NEGOTIATIONS ARE COMPLETED.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Late to-day a statement was given out, apparently by authority, in Wall street, that negotiations for the purchase of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad had been completed, and that the road had been bought by Staynor & Ives; that the first deposit of $500,000 had already been paid, and the transfer of the road to the purchasers would soon be made. The buyers are known only by their connection with the purchase of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad. The backer of these parties is reported to be Christopher Meyer, a millionaire rubber manufacturer of this city. There are, it is asserted, no other parties back of the purchase of any importance, and although C. P. Huntington's name is coupled with the Hamilton & Dayton railroad, he officially denies any connection, and those nearest him assert to their personal friends that he has no connection whatever with the syndicate.

ANOTHER REPORT.

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—The Record to-morrow will say: President Robert Garrett, of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, arrived in this city yesterday from Trenton. He was accompanied by E. Rollin Morse, representative of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, and who also represents in Boston important London and New York banking houses. President Garrett and Mr. Morse were closeted for a long time in Trenton on Thursday night, and from reliable Baltimore & Ohio sources comes the story that the proposed sale of that road to the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, which is known to be anxious to obtain it, was discussed and an understanding arrived at.

THE "SUBURBAN" RACE.

A Turf Writer Thinks Ben Ali will Win It.

NEW YORK, March 18.—"Centaur" writes in the Sporting World: "The public at large trust mainly to The Bard and Ben Ali to pull off the Suburban race. The Bard is now an equal favorite. Ben Ali runs him close in the market, while for the time being Fremont is let severely alone. When it is remembered that Ben Ali was hammered early in the season last year to get him ready, his constitution and latent strength are marvelous. The work that King Fox got last year was not a marker to the drubbing Murphy gave the Derby winner of 1886. Ben Ali ran most of his races last year under decided disadvantages. On the other hand, he wintered famously. This year he thickened and let down. He is now in every respect fit to undergo the strongest kind of work, and his speed will have better opportunity to display itself. His chance for the Suburban is exceedingly favorable. Altogether, I am still compelled to stick to my opinion that Ben Ali has the best chance of winning the Suburban.

CANADIAN BLOCKADE.

Traffic on the Canadian Pacific Completely Prostrated.

CHICAGO, March 18.—A special from Winnipeg, Manitoba, printed here says that the blockade on the Canadian Pacific in the Rocky mountains is complete, and there will be no through trains for a fortnight. Snow has blocked the road, and Mud tunnel has caved in. Passengers who went west two days ago have returned from the mountains, having been unable to get through, and went south to reach the Pacific coast by American lines.

LAWTON THE DEFAULTER.

His Office Besieged by Anxious and Excited Creditors.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The office of Walter E. Lawton, 31 Broadway, this morning was besieged with excited creditors. They got little information, as the chief bookkeeper of the firm had disappeared. Rufus Y. Kirkland, partner of Lawton, is making an examination of the affairs of the absconding debtor, whose defalcations will amount to more than half a million dollars.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

LIFE SAVING STATIONS.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Instructions have been issued to the superintendents of life saving districts embracing the lakes to man their stations and put them into operation at the opening of navigation. Stations in the lower districts will begin operations April 1, and others between that date and the 15th.

OPIUM SMUGGLING.

The treasury department is informed that opium is being smuggled into the United States through Detroit and the suspension bridge districts, and is then shipped to San Francisco, where it is placed on the market. According to reports received on the subject, the opium is shipped from China through British Columbia, and thence across the lakes.

THE SAME AS SAILING VESSELS.

Gen. Dumont, supervising inspector-general of steam vessels, has received a letter from the officers of the Cleveland Vessel Owners' association, comprising about one-half of the steam tonnage on the lakes, asking the suspension of rule 5 of his circular of February 19, prescribing that wheel chains on steamers shall be rove so that the wheel and helm shall move in the same direction, the observance of which they represent will be attended with considerable trouble and inconvenience to them. It is ascertained that the method of steering steam vessels as required by the rule is universal on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and on most of our rivers, but that the Cleveland steamers have adopted a system in use on sailing vessels—that is, to reeve the wheel chains so that the wheel and helm shall move in opposite directions.

ALASKA COMMERCIAL COMPANY ARRAIGNED.

NEW YORK, March 18.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald this morning gives the full text of a letter addressed by L. N. Hanley & Co. to the president on the subject of Alaska seal fisheries. The letter defends the vessel owners of the coast from the charge of being pirates, and demands official inquiries into the acts of government officials in Behring's sea in connection with the usurpation of the Alaska Commercial company, at whose instance arbitrary acts are alleged to be committed, to the detriment of legal shipping ventures. The letter charges agents of the company with violating laws of the government by defacing silver coin of the United States with stamps for the purpose of trade, and violating the conditions of its lease in several ways, thus defrauding the government of the revenue.

CALLED ON THE PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Ex-Gov. Robinson of Massachusetts, was at the White house to-day. He was offered a place on the interstate commerce commission about two weeks ago and declined by letter. The same offer was repeated to-day and again declined. Judge Thurman was also among the president's callers to-day, and it is presumed his visit has some connection with the appointment of interstate commissioners.

THE PRESIDENT GOES TO THE THEATER.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The president to-night, on the evening of the 50th anniversary of his birthday, attended the performance of the Thatcher, Primrose & West minstrels at the National theater. The occupants of the president's box were Mrs. Hoyt and Miss Jewett, of Buffalo, and Col. and Mrs. Lamont.

THE PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—To-day is the fiftieth anniversary of President Cleveland's birthday, but there is no outward observance of the event at the White house beyond the presentation of a number of floral tributes.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

THE ANARCHISTS WILL NOT BE HANGED TILL OCTOBER.

CHICAGO, March 18.—A News special from Ottawa, Ill., says: Speaking of the possibilities in relation to the decision in the anarchist case, Judge Schofield, of the supreme court, said to a News representative this evening that in case of reversal and ordering of a new trial the opinion of the court would be sent here and would be made public as soon as it is arrived at. But in case the decision of the lower court is affirmed the public will not be apprised of the fact until the court meets again at Ottawa, which will be in September next. In case of affirmation the court must fix a date of execution, and must do it in open court and in the district where the case belonged. The court will adjourn its session here next week, and it is of course impossible for the court to examine the bulky record and return an opinion before adjournment. It follows that it will be impossible for the anarchists to be hanged before next fall, as the sentence cannot be affirmed and the day of execution fixed before the first Tuesday in September. About a month would doubtless be allowed between the affirmation and day of execution. The "reds," therefore, need have no fear of being hanged before October. Judge Scott is expected to return from California about April 1, and he will participate in deciding the case. Since the arguments have been made the prevailing opinion here seems to be that the verdict in the court below will be sustained by the supreme court. Mr. Sweet returned to Chicago at 4 o'clock, and other counsel will return in the morning.

THE ANARCHIST APPEAL.

OTTAWA, March 18.—The state's attorney-general made his argument before the supreme court in the anarchist case to-day. He said at the start that it would be strange if in a case of such great length a few errors had not crept in, but the court would find that no errors had occurred sufficient to warrant the granting of a new trial. Justice had not been obstructed or interfered with in the slightest degree in the process of the trial. The case involved the integrity of the constitution, and very probably of the government, and the anarchists were on trial for the crime, and there was no use in attempting to deny it. He then reviewed the testimony to prove the fact of conspiracy. He confined himself to expounding the law of conspiracy and contended that under the evidence the defendants were absolutely convicted of murder.

A TOUGH MAN ARRESTED.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Peter English, the burglar who three weeks ago tried to murder Officer Higginbotham of the New York police, was arrested here to-day. He is supposed to be the murderer of Lyman S. Weeks, killed at his own home Tuesday morning last by a burglar who entered the basement of the house.

NEW YORK BOODLER.

NEW YORK, March 18.—A jury was finally obtained to-day in the case of ex-Alderman Cleary, after a delay of fifteen days.

NOTABLE DEAD.

GEORGE SICKLES.

The will of the late G. G. Sickles is understood to dispose of about $5,000,000 worth of property, each of his daughters receiving $50,000, his widow a third, and his only heir, Gen. Sickles, the residue.

MRS. ELIHU WASHBURNE.

CHICAGO, March 18.—Mrs. Washburne, wife of Elihu Washburne, ex-United States minister to France, died at 7:30 this morning at her rooms at the Tremont house.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

LUMBER BRIG ABANDONED.

Arrivals from the west coast to-day report an abandoned lumber-laden brig near Barclay sound. The Indians saved most of the lumber. The vessel is fast breaking up. She is supposed to be the bark Wm. G. Irwin, which sailed from the Sound last fall.

The steam-schooner Anna Beck, one month out, returned to-day, having caught no seals.

PORTLAND SATURDAY MARCH 19, 1887

AN EMBARRASSING PROBLEM.

The democratic national platform adopted at Chicago in July, 1884, declared that "the republican party, so far as principle is concerned, is a reminiscence." In this statement there is a strong touch of truth. All the great principles for which the republican party contended have been established, and in these days no principles of equal importance are before the country. The republican party therefore has to content itself, in large degree, with "pointing with pride" to its past achievements. This becomes a fit subject for satire, since a party cannot live wholly on its past, however honorable. The republican party has to go back about twenty years to find anything it is particularly proud of, and this fact becomes a fair target for ridicule.

And yet in the same democratic platform which declares that "the republican party, so far as principle is concerned, is a reminiscence," the democratic party was forced to content itself with "pointing with pride," only, instead of finding things in its own history, twenty years back, for self-glorification, it was compelled to go back forty or fifty years. It was able to find in those remote times material to support the assertion that it had greatly enlarged the territorial area of the United States, extended the commerce of the country, and done other beneficent things but so far as principle was concerned, its utterances showed it to be about twice as remote a "reminiscence" as its antagonist.

There is no question now before the country that appeals to the emotions or fires the heart. At present no great moral question is involved in politics, nor is the welfare of the country seriously menaced by the policy of either party. Both parties therefore are compelled to look backward to find subjects of real interest to think about and dwell upon and it becomes ludicrous to find one of them sneering at the other for doing the thing which both are doing. It is generally admitted that if there is any question of present interest it is the fiscal question. Both parties attempted to meet this in 1884, or rather both attempted to dodge it. However, it must be said that the democratic party labored harder to dodge it than the republican party did. The republican party did indeed announce itself boldly for protection as the basis of a proper fiscal and industrial policy for the country—though it attempted to "hedge" by promising to "relieve the people of the burden of unnecessary taxation by a wise reduction of the surplus," but how it proposed to reduce the surplus it left to the imagination of the voters of the several states, some of whom would prefer to have it done in one way and some in another.

The democratic party strove to avoid committing itself to the principle of protection, and was equally sedulous in its effort not to pronounce directly against it. The result was a juggle of words that might mean one thing or the other, as the politicians of various localities might wish to interpret it. This left the party completely at sea on the subject. Hence it has been able to do nothing in congress. Its representatives from low tariff or free trade districts have urged one policy, and its representatives from high tariff or protection districts have urged another. Adhering to their platform, the republicans in congress have stood almost to a man for protection; finding no guidance in their platform, the democrats have split, divided and done nothing.

How long is this to continue? Beyond question the republicans in 1888 will again pronounce openly and strongly for protection. Will the democrats again quibble, equivocate and evade? And if they do how can they be depended on to reduce the surplus? Upon instinct, tradition and principle, their party is opposed to large and continuous appropriations for internal improvements. On their theory this policy is wasteful, and gives the general government too much power. Republicans will say that they can find ways of disposing of a large proportion of the surplus by prosecution of public works, heretofore too much neglected. Here, however, is a democratic president who has refused to allow a judicious appropriation for rivers and harbors. While it can not be fairly said that the democratic party of the country is fully satisfied with his action, yet it is quite certain that republican policy favors appropriations for public works to a greater extent than democratic policy does. Large appropriations for public works is part of a necessary plan for taking out of the treasury and redistributing among the people the surplus which high tariff brings in. The manufacturing districts get the advantage in the matter of protection, and the non-manufacturing districts seek compensation through appropriations for the public works which their conditions require.

A large majority of the democratic party is for free trade or low tariffs but the party is afraid to go to the people on the direct issue. It has not dared hitherto to lay down a party law which would compel every man professing to be a democrat to abandon the principle or doctrine of protection, because it fears to take the risk of losing protection votes for its candidates. And yet the dominant faction of the party—the low tariff element, led by Carlisle—has taken the position that the basis of any plan for reduction of the surplus must be an attack upon the protective features of existing tariff acts. The question is, how much longer will it be possible for the democratic party, in control of the house of representatives where all fiscal measures must originate, and responsible moreover for the conduct of the administration, to evade its responsibilities, in this matter, under conditions that are piling up the surplus to proportions far exceeding those of which democrats themselves complained so loudly in 1884?

The eccentric and somewhat notorious Ignatius Donnelly of Minnesota who is deeply afflicted with the notion that Bacon wrote the works that go under Shakespeare's name and who has been declaring that he was going to prove it by a cipher he has discovered in the plays, writes that his book on the subject will be ready for the printer by July next. "The world," he says, "will never cease to be astonished, not with my book, but at the revelations it contains." Its principal "revelation" will probably be the phenomenal want of judgment of the author, for the man who can seriously suppose that the works that go under the name of Shakespeare could have emanated from the same mind as the works that go under the name of Bacon, is a sort of prodigy for his lack of perception and penetration. Internal evidence of the writings is enough, but there is plenty of external evidence as to the existence, identity and powers of Shakespeare. But Donnelly's book, no doubt, will find readers among the curious, as has that of Judge Holmes, of St. Louis, who is chief of the writers in support of the absurdity of the Baconian authorship of Shakespeare.

Mr Thomas Buckman, of New Era, writes to the Prohibition Star: "Suppose that prohibition is carried next fall. Suppose the power that is behind the 200 saloons that are in or near Portland should organize to resist or evade any prosecution that might be brought against them, and they carry on their business in spite of the law, have we not lost, in the constitutional feature, even the right to regulate or in any way control it?" This is precisely what will happen, not only in Portland, but in every other town of importance in the state.

Dakota cast 105 000 votes in her last election. It is a greater number than was cast in the last presidential election by Vermont, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Nevada, Delaware, South Carolina, Florida, Colorado or Oregon, and nearly as many as were cast in Maine, Connecticut, Mississippi or West Virginia. And yet Dakota can't get into the Union as a state.

The answer of Mr C B Carlisle to the charges made by Mr. Ellis G Hughes seems to be straightforward and complete. It bears on its face the appearance of truth, and if it is not true it behooves anyone whom it may concern to accept the challenge so fully given by Mr. Carlisle, and show wherein it is not true.

THE OREGON & CALIFORNIA.

Some Important Information Gained Last Night.

LOS ANGELES SMALLPOX

An Official Statement of the Condition of the Disease

LOS ANGELES March 18—The following official statement was issued yesterday. The total number of cases in the city is forty three; seven have died in all; eight are still in the hospital but only one of them is sick and he is convalescing. Two were discharged this afternoon and seven will be in a day or two. Thirteen cases are quarantined in private houses and are strictly guarded. All these except one are nearly well. Only two new cases in the past five days. It is impossible for the disease to become epidemic owing to the extraordinary precautions taken by the authorities. Over 20 000 vaccinations have already been made and vaccination is being systematically continued. The city has been divided into districts, and an adequate force of competent physicians is going from house to house vaccinating. There is no prospect of any more deaths. The disease has been extremely mild. The panic caused among strangers has entirely died out, and the people are coming into the city by hundreds, and the streets are crowded. No danger whatever to visitors.

WILLIAM WORKMAN, Mayor
M HOGAN, Health Officer

One new case of smallpox was reported in the past twenty four hours. A Mexican 72 years old has been removed to the smallpox hospital. This is the first case since last Sunday.

ABOUT THE POSTAL TELEGRAPH.

SAN FRANCISCO March 18—Samuel Rosener, general manager of the Postal Telegraph company, was questioned regarding the probable date upon which they would open their office for general Eastern and European business. In reply Mr Rosener said: "That is a question which I am at present unable to answer. We have had to contend with storms and snowslides and almost every other agency of nature since the erection of our line. We are all right just now and dispatches pass between this city and New York without interruption, but it is impossible for us to say when the next blizzard or snow slide will occur and interrupt communication again. It is extremely probable however, that the weather will settle before many days sufficiently to justify us in opening our office for Eastern business, and as soon as we are assured of that fact we will do so but we do not propose to be premature and open up only to be forced to shut down again. As soon as we feel justified in opening our line we will do so and that may be any day. I should be only too well pleased to tell you that we would open to-morrow if I could."

SAN FRANCISCO RACES

SAN FRANCISCO March 18.—If the weather is fair to-morrow there will be a race at the Bay District track for $1000 in which Porter Ashe enters his horse Hector, Charles Kingsley his mare Alito, Hill Tom Williams his swift pacer and Ira Randall his mare Luella. There will be heats of two miles between Emma G and B he R thus making an interesting programme. At the track is a good deal of talk over the meeting between Harry Wilkes and Oliver K which is to take place on the 2d prox at the Bay district track for $10 000. Budd Doble has telegraphed he will leave Los Angeles on the 26th with Oliver K, who is reported in good fettle. He asks of the management not to have the heats of the other races in between those of the great meeting as too much is at stake both in money and reputation.

PROBABLE SCARCITY OF BEEF

SAN FRANCISCO March 18—George M Carr a well known cattle dealer stated yesterday that the winter had been severe enough to kill off beef and greatly weaken a large number of herds. It is expected that but small importations of beef cattle will be made from Nevada, Montana and neighboring ranges this year as the winter has also been so severe there that herds have been greatly depleted. Local wholesale men are already trying to place contracts for the purchase of beef on foot for the summer trade but cattle men are trying to hold off until the condition of the market can be better judged by ascertaining to a certainty the condition of cattle on the Nevada and Montana ranges.

TWO SUDDEN DEATHS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18—Two sudden deaths of well known people occurred here to-day. Dr Jas. S Coleman a prominent physician of this city suddenly fell and expired while feeling the pulse of a patient this morning. He was aged 65 years. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause.

Edward Warren Coleman, nephew of W T Coleman also died suddenly to-day, from what cause has not been learned. It is believed that a Turkish bath which he took yesterday, may have in some way hastened his death.

REMARKABLY LOW CHARTER.

SAN FRANCISCO March 18.—A rumor is current based on apparently good authority, that an iron ship was taken this morning to load wheat for the United Kingdom, Havre or Antwerp at 22s 6d, with 2s 6d less for direct port. If this be true it shows a decline of 2s 6d on the last previous charter drawn at this port and is the lowest rate paid this season. Three years ago this month the British iron ships Theophone and Poseidon were cleared for Queenstown by John Rosenfeld under charters at 22s 6d. No other iron ships had been chartered as low as that in twenty five years.

DEATH PREFERRED TO DIVORCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—A. B Lawson, a well known private detective, attempted to commit suicide in his room at the Windsor house by means of laudanum, but was saved by Dr Hollenberg who relieved him of the poison. Lawson was formerly engaged in the detective business with John Curtin, but was discharged for treachery to a client. Lawson made the attempt on his life because his wife threatened to sue him for divorce. Lawson attempts to explain the affair by saying he took the poison by mistake.

CATTLE HERDER SHOT

PASO ROBLES March 18.—Last evening about sundown Henry Godfrey who owns a ranch seven miles northwest of San Miguel and John McBride met in the latter place where they quarreled over some stock. McBride was on horseback and turned to face Godfrey and in so doing placed his hand on the back of his saddle. Godfrey thinking that McBride intended shooting, drew a revolver and shot McBride killing him. Godfrey has a wife and family and McBride worked for Mr Wm Pinkerton herding stock.

RICH GOLD STRIKE

NEVADA CITY Cal March 18—One of the richest strikes in years was made this morning in the Nevada County quartz mine. A fine ledge of exceedingly rich ore was uncovered. Nearly every piece of quartz shows free gold, and a box of specimens deposited in the bank contains pieces that are literally filled with chunks of the precious metal. The strike has caused considerable excitement and will stimulate prospects on this district.

SUIT AGAINST A CANNERYMAN

SAN FRANCISCO March 18—Wm T Coleman & Co to-day sued Samuel Elmore their agent in Astoria Oregon for $197. Plaintiffs aver that Elmore conducted a salmon cannery the output from which was to be consigned to Wm T Coleman and they were to receive 3 per cent. on sales. The firm now asserts that there is a balance due them of $171.

ON TRIAL FOR EMBEZZLING STOCK

VIRGINIA, March 18—The case of Sol Frankel of the insolvent firm of Frankel & Co which has been on trial for three days in the district court was given to the jury at 5 45 this evening, and up to a late hour no verdict had been rendered. The indictment upon which Frankel has been tried is one in which John Murphy charges the firm with embezzling 400 shares of Exchequer stock. This indictment is supposed to be the strongest of the five indictments against the firm, and if acquitted of this indictment the supposition is that the others will be dismissed.

A REPLY TO MR. HUGHES AND OTHERS

PORTLAND, March 19, 1887

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Over his name in your paper of the 17th, Ellis G Hughes makes a certain charge against me and my work as secretary of the state board of immigration. In referring to the postal card memoranda he attempts to convey the impression that because a number of these cards were filled out by the same hand and with the same ink, therefore a swindle of some sort has been perpetrated. If he had been desirous of ascertaining the facts a simple inquiry would have shown him the following:

All the work of the board is gratuitous, and there is nothing whatever contingent or conditional upon the issuance of the certificates for railway tickets. The moment the new-comer leaves these rooms the board loses sight of him and his future transactions unless, out of courtesy, he or the man who sells to him notifies the board. In the endeavor to collect data of the settlement of immigrants a postal card memorandum was prepared last June with blanks to be filled up and signed by the buyer or by an authorized immigration agent for him which, when filled, would show when the man came into the state, his name, where from what county he settled in, how much land he purchased, what he paid and to whom. These cards were given out to new-comers to fill up after settlement if they would or sent to immigration agents for them to fill up as their sales warranted. There was nothing confidential about this card. It was not a contract of any kind, it was considered by the commissioners as a mere memoranda and it had no value except as a means of collecting immigration data as to the settlement of new comers. Whoever signed or unsigned no one was in the least injured by it. It has been examined time and again by newspaper men by members of legislative committees by the commissioners, by any one at all interested in this work, and not a thought of its not being legitimate, honest, reliable in every aspect of it was entertained by any person. It is hardly probable that if this effort on the part of the board to come into possession of this information about the settlement of immigrants in this state was other than perfectly legitimate any one of the following county agents—H. E. Cross, at Oregon City, Geo M Miller of Eugene, J H Raley, of La Grande, Cline Monteith & Co at Albany or Charles S Moore of Linkville would have signed them. Nor would J A Bowdoin of Linkville or G F Billings of Ashland and others have made out similar statements for the use of the board. Mr Billings sends in the names of eleven of these settlers. Mr Bowdoin adds sixteen to the list, Mr Cross fills out eight postal cards, Mr Miller six, Mr Raley four, Mr Cline two, M S Dean six. Among those filled out and mailed direct by new-comers we have the names and postoffice address of Messrs. Meeth, Bingley, Baker, Westall, Andrew, McNab, Mathison, Butler, Curtis, Wetherell, Hooker, Spaulding, Bowen, Smith, Batchelder, Whitman, Berer, Hedington, Brown, Long, Felder, Peterson, Goodrich, Patrick, Sears, Jackson, Roberts, Stewart, Spence, Cathcart, Devore, Johnson and Hove. These gentlemen filled out and signed the blanks on the postal memoranda and forwarded them by mail with the impress on stamp of the forwarding office to the board. Those from the different county agents were frequently inclosed by them in a letter furnishing additional and valuable information.

Again a number of new comers after their return from the interior of the state where they had purchased and while en route to the East after their families visited the rooms and gave the secretary the information needed in filling up these cards. Some of them filled up and signed the cards and others requested it done. When the agents in the interior towns had no cards they sent the particulars of a sale to the secretary in a letter and this kind of memoranda was made simply as to what was true, perfectly reliable, legitimate and the most concise way of keeping the fact. For instance under date of Albany July 30 1886 Cline Monteith & Co immigration agents wrote the board as follows:

Yesterday we sold to W H Coggswell of Halifax Nova Scotia the Warren Hilbert farm containing 114 acres six miles southwest of Albany, price paid was $3420. Mr Coggswell called on us last March with a card of introduction from you.

Upon receipt of this I at once filled up a postal memoranda with this item attached the man's name and pasted the whole in my book of reference. This certainly is no forgery. It falsifies no fact, nor is there any attempt to counterfeit information or signature. If it is forgery the charge of Mr Hughes applies to quite all of the county immigration agents in the state as well as to myself. No one is injured. It has not injured Mr Coggswell, it has not injured Mr Hughes or the state at large. It is simply a record of immigration data honestly obtained and put into a concentrated form on the postal. The same thing is true of all the above. This is a plain statement of the case and a feature of the work to which Mr Hughes alludes in his letter and certainly in terms for which he had no warrant. All these people whose names are given in this list, which does not include all by any means are in the state and not hard to find, and I challenge Mr Hughes or any other man to prove that the information conveyed by the memoranda herein given is not wholly true. The whole of it is true, as stated and there is no reason in the world for keeping the memoranda other than that already stated.

During the recent session of the legislature a joint committee of five members and a clerk spent most of two days in a thorough examination of every feature of the work of this board and to a large extent the report of that committee in the fullest extent favorable to the board and its work was for the last half year of '86 based on this postal memoranda. In one or two instances the clerk of the committee from his personal knowledge, adding a considerable sum to that reported as invested by the new comers. All of that report was published in pamphlet form and given freely to the public through THE OREGONIAN. The public may now judge between the statements herein made and backed by the names given the report of the committee of the legislature and that made by Mr Hughes. So far as this charge of "forgery" is concerned, there is nothing more to be said, certainly for every fair minded man nothing more is needed.

Coupled with this is the implied charge that immigrants are swindled or that I have been taking advantage of my position as secretary of this board to make money beyond my salary. Not only Mr Hughes but others here and elsewhere in the state, have made this charge especially that the railway companies were paying me a commission on tickets sold.

As the board does all its work gratuitously does not sell the immigrant anything, does not trade him anything, makes no charges of any kind just how he is to be swindled does not appear. Having been conscientious in the discharge of my duty I have no hesitancy in saying that if there is any man in this state who has come here during the past twenty eight months as an immigrant visited the rooms of the board and paid me any sum of money for any purpose or made me a present of any kind for any service he will confer a favor by sending his address and a statement of the transaction to Mr Ellis G Hughes or any member of this commission. Again if any official of any railway in this state or any other has ever paid me or promised to pay me a dollar or a cent or any other sum of money or has ever endeavored to make a contract with me for the traffic of immigrants by which he or I was to reap a benefit he will confer a favor upon me by sending his name and address to Mr Ellis G Hughes or to any member of this commission. Still another thing. If any man in this state who has listed his land at the state board has ever paid me money or given me an equivalent of any kind, for aiding in the selling of that land he will confer a favor upon me by sending his name and address to Ellis G Hughes or some one of the commission. Having been thoroughly conscientious in the discharge of my duties I now leave the matter with the public and the commissioners simply adding that I am not personally acquainted with Mr Hughes, and I have no reason to suppose that if he represents himself alone he desires to do me an injustice. I shall be glad at any time to explain to him the working of this board, which he certainly does not fully understand, not having personally examined into it.

Secretary

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

COURT OF INQUIRY.—Gen. Frank Wheaton, colonel commanding the Second infantry, and Lieut. S. E. Clark, the regimental quartermaster, arrived at Rathdrum by the delayed Northern Pacific train. They were en route to Fort Cœur d'Alene to appear before a court of inquiry which will convene to investigate the conduct of these two officers when stationed at the post nearly two years ago. Col. Wheaton was then in command of the fort, and Lieut. Clark was the regimental and fort quartermaster, and it is alleged that while acting in such capacity they permitted liquor to be sold to Indians on the reservation, allowed public transportation to be used improperly, and acted in collusion with the post trader to the detriment of the government. The charges are made by civilians living in the vicinity, and were the subject of an inquiry nearly two years ago; but the matter has assumed such shape that to satisfy both parties in interest the present court has been ordered by the secretary of war. It is generally expected that Col. Wheaton will be able to justify himself, and that this will end an affair which has given rise to a deal of ill feeling and personal recrimination. The court consists of Col. Henry M. Black, Twenty-third infantry; Col. J. W. Forsyth, Seventh cavalry, and Lieut.-Col. James M. Moore, deputy quartermaster general. Lieut.-Col. Thomas F Barr, deputy judge advocate general, is the judge advocate of the court.

TO BE TRIED TO-DAY.—Mrs. Corbett, Margaret Holland and Patrick Holland were each and all arraigned in the police court for assault and battery on Johnny McCabe. They pleaded not guilty and the cases were continued for trial until to-day. McCabe has been arrested in Justice Tuttle's court for assault and battery on Mrs. Margaret Holland and in defacing a building by breaking down the door of Mrs. Holland's dwelling with some stove wood. The cases were also set for trial to-day and in default of bonds McCabe was committed to the county jail. The parties concerned made an effort to settle the case and were informed they could do so only by paying the costs. To this they demurred.

FINE ROADSTER.—In a month from now, there will be more fine roadsters in Portland than ever before known. Each of the gentlemen composing the driving association proposes to have a more stylish and a faster horse than any of the others, and each is looking the country over for such an animal. Dr. W. H. Saylor is the first to secure the much-desired prize. Yesterday the animal was driven here for the first time. He was formerly owned by C. B. Livermore of Walla Walla, is 7 years old, a standard-bred Bellfounder, blood bay with black mane and tail and can make a mile in three minutes without turning a hair, though his record is lower.

TAYLOR STREET'S NEW PASTOR.—Rev. J. W. Alderman, the new minister for the Taylor-street M. E. church, and wife will arrive here over the Northern Pacific to-day. He will occupy his pulpit at the church, the pastorate of which he has assumed, both morning and evening to-morrow. It is doubtful about Dr. Alderman speaking in the Tabernacle Sunday afternoon, the announcement having been made without his authority. Dr. Alderman has been transferred from Burlington, Iowa. He was pastor of one of the large Methodist churches in Albany, N. Y., for the period of three years; he also filled the pulpit at Troy, N. Y., for the same length of time.

UNPLEASANT SENDOFF.—George Duvall, a stranger, arrived in this city yesterday from North Yakima, where, just previous to leaving, he met a very unpleasant experience. He was attacked by footpads, knocked down and robbed of $95, every cent he possessed, but his railway ticket was not taken. One blow, which was dealt him with some blunt instrument in the face, cut his lip, laying it open down on the chin and around upon the cheek, nearly two inches. Duvall came away without seeing a surgeon, and paid no attention to the wound until reaching Portland. Now it is badly inflamed and will give him a great deal of trouble.

BIG SEAL STORY.—The following from the Astorian reminds one of the juvenile story about the boy who saw three thousand red-tailed foxes: "A man who says he counted them, reports that there were exactly one thousand seals on Sand island yesterday morning. One thousand seals is a good many seals. It takes a good many salmon, too, to furnish those fellows daily rations. What they eat and what they destroy, which is ten times what they need, would fill a good many cases of four dozen cans each."

NOT THERE FOR HER HEALTH.—The suit of David Work vs. H. H. Tinker was tried yesterday before a jury in Judge Shattuck's court. This action was brought by Work to recover $70 for three and a half months' work performed by his daughter as domestic for Tinker in his hotel at Long Beach last summer. The defense was that Miss Work was only down to the beach on a visit and was to receive no compensation for services as domestic; in fact, did not render such. The jury found for the plaintiff.

TRUNK STOLEN.—Jacob Willis, the Texas dude who attracted so much attention here last week with his big green hat and gold trimmings, is short his trunk. It was stolen from the International hotel, and Willis alleges that one P. M. Jordan is the thief. It contained valuables to the amount of $200. Jordan is supposed to have taken the trunk to Sprague, and a telegram has been sent to that place to arrest him.

LUCKY ESCAPE.—Several days ago a party of men were working at the quarry near Oswego, getting out stone for the First Presbyterian church in Portland, when a rock weighing several hundred pounds became loosened from the bluff above and fell, knocking down three men, two of whom received but slight injuries, while the third was badly bruised on the head and on the shoulders.

MATCH GAMES.—This afternoon and evening Mr. Mowry and other experts will give exhibition games at the Brunswick hall. The tables are in fine order and the room presents an attractive appearance. Charles Abrahams and W. H. Summers will be present as mixologists and in the evening a hot lunch will be spread. Mr. Sargent, a billiardist of note, remains at the Brunswick.

FOR STEALING TWO SADDLES.—A young fellow named James Armstrong was before the police judge yesterday for stealing a saddle from R. M. Wilbur. He is also charged in Justice Tuttle's court with the larceny by bailee of a saddle from J. B. Stapleton. It seems that Armstrong borrowed the saddles and then sold them. Both cases will be looked into to-day.

POSITIVELY THE LAST DAY.—If any of our readers are really desirous of securing bargains in strictly first-class jewelry, diamonds, solid silverware, etc., should embrace the opportunity presented by the New York Jewelry company at their store, 107 First street, this day at 2 and 8 o'clock P. M. See advertisement in another column.

THE STAGE.

CASINO.—To-night the benefit of Manager Goldstein takes place at the above house, and the indications are that there will be a full house. Mr. Goldstein deserves a benefit for giving the public of this city comic operas at popular prices, he being the one who organized the first company, and was instrumental in having the above place built for the amusement people here. The bill to-night is a strong one, as seen by the following cast:

RIVER AND HARBOR WORK.

How the Appropriation of 1886 will be Expended.

Snag Boat for the Upper Willamette—The Jetty at the Mouth of the Columbia—Good Results at Coos Bay.

Included in the appropriation made by congress over a year ago was a special sum set apart for the building of a snag boat for the Upper Willamette river. Major Jones did not cause the new boat to be constructed last season for two reasons. One was that the old snag puller was not so disabled by age and past service as to be inadequate to meet the requirements for another year, and another reason was that the appropriation made for river and harbor improvements was not rendered available until late in the season. Last fall the snag boat was sent up the Willamette and removed many obstructions between Oregon City and Harrisburg. High water coming early, the boat was withdrawn and sent into winter quarters. The new boat will be built by contract. Work will not be commenced for some time to come. While the appropriation is not a very large one, yet it is sufficient to enable a very substantial and effective boat to be constructed and adequately equipped, and also a craft which will last for years. Fortunately, the failure of President Cleveland to sign the river and harbor bill does not prevent the building of the new boat, as the money belongs to the appropriation made the year before. There is really no particular reason for hurrying forward with the work, for, if the new boat was completed and fully furnished with all the necessary appliances, no work could be done the present season. There are no funds left to defray the expenses of carrying forward operations.

Mr. Christopher, Major Jones's chief clerk, has returned from a trip up the Snake and Columbia, where he went some days ago to take an inventory of all the government's property, boats, scows, plant, etc., used in improving the channel of these streams. He has settled up all the affairs, and nothing remains to be done but maintain, as President Lincoln once said, of Gen. McClellan's campaign, a "masterly inactivity." As there are no funds, of course no work will be carried on. Major Jones has almost literally "closed up shop," for want of the needful "sinews of war." He has, of necessity dispensed with all the clerical force of his office, and only enough men will be employed to look after the property belonging to the government, and protect it from incidental damage and decay.

At present very little work of any kind is being done on the jetty at the mouth of the Columbia. Until recently men were employed in quarrying stone. Operations of this sort have been suspended, in consequence of the failure of the river and harbor bill to become a law. This failure has rendered entirely new arrangements necessary. Capt. Powell, however, said to an OREGONIAN reporter yesterday that bids were soon to be advertised for, and the contract awarded to furnish a quantity of stone for jetty work. Operations, he said, would probably commence about the first of May. Just how large a force of men will be employed, he could not state, that depending much upon circumstances.

On the locks at the Cascades work has been in progress for some time. With the opening of spring the force will no doubt be increased.

The contract has been awarded by Capt. Powell for furnishing piles for work at the mouth of Coquille river. The contract calls for the delivery of about 25,000 lineal feet of piling. The specifications require the piles to be of newly felled timber, of sound, straight, slow growth yellow fir, with the bark on, knots trimmed smooth, and butt end sawed square. They are required to be thirty-five feet long, not less than twelve inches in diameter at the small end, nor more than eighteen inches at the butt. The contractor will commence delivering the piling on May 1, and continue until the last of August.

At Yaquina bay active preparations are being made to commence work, and operations will begin about May 1. The Gen. Wright completed, some time since, the examination and survey of the bay. Borings were made at many points and observations taken of tidal currents, establishing tidal gauges, etc. This was finished several weeks since. Between the wharf and the quarry there are several small bars on which work is now being done so as to facilitate the passage of boats to and fro. Iron for a number of cars was received from the East several months ago, and also a locomotive. The wood work of the cars is soon to be made, and the sections put together. The train, which will be operated over a tramway of three feet gauge, is to be used in conveying stone from the quarry to where it will be required in building the jetty.

No operations of any consequence or magnitude are in progress at Coos bay, and none will be inaugurated until probably about the first of May. At the quarry adjacent to the bay a force of men has been engaged for some time in getting out stone. However, this was recently suspended, as that work had been sufficiently advanced for the present.

The Coos Bay News in speaking of harbor improvements, and appropriations by congress, says: It is said that at no place where government money has been expended has such an improvement been effected as at the mouth of the Coquille. The course of the river has been completely changed from its outlet between the rocks, and now runs straight to sea, the course being entirely devoid of those obstacles to navigation encountered in the old channel. The water on the bar is also deeper and shipping has been much benefited.

Although the change at the entrance to Coos bay is not as noticeable as that effected at the Coquille, owing to the much greater depth of water in which the seawall is being built, yet the actual results are fully in keeping with those attained at our neighboring port. For the past two years the bar has been exceptionally good, with a depth of water from twenty-two to twenty-six feet. The northwest summer winds or the southeast winter gales have not effected it in the least, and it stands to-day an argument in favor of government work hard to be controverted. In years gone by the bar at various times had a depth equal to the above figures, but it was only temporary, and could not be relied on, shoaling sometimes to fourteen feet, and delaying shipping for weeks at a time. This has all been changed since the effect of the government work has been felt, and Coos bay ranks to-day as one of the deepest and safest bar harbors on the Pacific coast.

REWARD FOR HEROISM.

Receipt of Six Medals Earned by a Boat's Crew for Saving a Man in the Breakers.

On the 11th inst. THE OREGONIAN'S Washington correspondent telegraphed that Assistant Secretary Fairchild had awarded life saving medals of honor to Charles Richardson, first officer of the U. S. lighthouse tender Shubrick, John Jones, Nicholas Dorie, Peter Nesman, August Ripetz and Axel Wiklund for their heroic skill, judgment and endurance in saving Olaf Christopherson from drowning at the Columbia river bar October 7, 1884. Yesterday Capt. Uriel Sebree, inspector of the Thirteenth lighthouse district, received from the treasury department the six medals of honor referred to, with the request that he present them to the men. Mr. Richardson is now the first officer of the Manzanita, and August Ripetz is working at Astoria. The address of the other men are unknown to Capt. Sebree, who will be very glad to receive them, in order that the men may get the medals which have been awarded them.

The medal is about the size of a standard dollar and is suspended from the mouth of an eagle, around whose head is entwined a laurel wreath. The face of the metal is a mythological scene of rescue. Struggling in the breakers is a woman, and over her an angel bearing a long rope, which the drowning woman is in the act of grasping. The scene is encircled with the words "United States of America; act of Congress June 20, 1874." On the reverse side is a wreath of laurel encircling the name of the man who risked his life to save another's, and a mention of the deed which called it forth; the whole surrounded by the words: "In testimony of heroic deeds in saving life from the perils of the sea."

THE BRAVE ACT.

Following is a graphic account of the brave act, which called forth recognition from the government. It is taken from the telegraphic columns of THE OREGONIAN, October 7, 1884.

ASTORIA, Oct. 7.—The Shubrick left this morning early with supplies for the Tillamook rock lighthouse. A rough bar convinced Capt. Gregory that it would be impossible to land the supplies today and the steamer turned back. Off Clatsop spit, George Rowe, assistant engineer, sighted a boat in the breakers, and going aloft to obtain a better view he informed the captain that a man was clinging to the boat. Gregory stood in as close as he dared for the safety of the steamer, when the man and boat were a quarter of a mile distant. The weather lifeboat was lowered, and First Officer Richardson and five men bravely risked themselves and pulled the boat through the heavy breakers and rescued the man, exhausted and speechless, who was conveyed safely to the Shubrick. Gregory administered stimulants and had him stripped and rubbed and placed in warm blankets. Arrived in Astoria he revived sufficiently to give your correspondent a statement. His name is Olaf A. Christopherson. He was formerly bookkeeper in this city for Warren & Thompson, and is now employed at the Bay View cannery. He left Skamokawa for Bay View in a skiff last evening at 8 o'clock. He stopped pulling to light his pipe, and both oars slipped from the oarlocks and disappeared in the darkness. He had nothing to paddle with, and was hopelessly adrift. At 4 A. M. he came abreast of Astoria, but too far off to make his cries of distress heard. The strong ebb tide drifted him on and on, past Tansey point, and at 6 A. M., past Fort Stevens, in the jaws of the hungry breakers on the wide ocean.

Young Christopherson says he saw the Shubrick going out, and as she made no stop concluded he was not seen, and his last hope was gone. Several times the breakers washed him from his hold, and he had to swim sometimes forty or fifty feet to regain his boat.

The waves were so high that the rescuing party could only, on the crest of the breakers, catch an occasional glimpse of the capsized boat, but were directed where to steer by hand signals from the rigging of the Shubrick. Christopherson evidently was not born to be drowned.

SLOUGHED HIS MAN.

Two years ago George Truedell and another man were indicted by the grand jury at Chehalis, Lewis county, W. T., charged with the crime of murder. Both men managed to get away and they have been "wanted" in Lewis county ever since. About a month ago Sheriff Claughton of that county captured one of them and heard of Truedell's whereabouts, the latter having left word at the Portland postoffice to have his mail sent to Onion Peak, Tillamook county. The sheriff got here on the 5th and started for Onion Peak, returning Wednesday with the prisoner. While coming back he fell from his horse, injuring himself severely. There was five feet of snow on Onion Peak and the sheriff and his prisoner had a rough trip. Truedell was lodged in the county jail upon arrival here and will be taken back to Lewis county as soon as the sheriff is able to travel.—Astorian, March 19.

ELWANGER'S LAST NIGHT.

Statement Concerning his Insanity from a Man who sat up with him.

Mr. Jerome Waldron, who was mentioned as having accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Elwanger to the city jail last Wednesday night, was found by AN OREGONIAN reporter yesterday. In answer to inquiries, Mr. Waldron related how Elwanger passed his last night upon earth. About midnight one of the Elwanger children came to his house, which is next door to Elwanger's, very much frightened, and asked him to come over, and urging him to hurry. Dressing hastily, he went as requested, and found Mr. and Mrs. Elwanger standing at their front gate. Mrs. Elwanger seemed to be holding to her husband, and endeavoring to persuade him not to go.

On making inquiry as to what was the trouble, Elwanger said he wanted to go down to the city jail and report to the captain for duty. He did not appear much excited at the time. Waldron advised him that, as it was late, he had better return into the house and go down in the morning. But he obstinately persisted in going. He also asked Waldron to accompany him. To this request Mrs. Elwanger joined, so the three persons proceeded to the city jail as stated in THE OREGONIAN. As Elwanger was not taken into custody at the jail and locked up, the trio, after some talk with Capt. Andrus and others there, started to return home. Mr. Waldron thinks they were at the jail about fifteen minutes altogether. They then returned home, and, in compliance with Mrs. Elwanger's urgent request, Waldron went into the house with them. Meantime he became convinced that Elwanger was not in his right mind, and also shared with the anxious wife's fears that he was dangerous; that he was liable to harm himself or others at any moment. So Waldron went into the house and remained there for the rest of the night, not returning to his own home until about daylight Thursday morning.

Elwanger's actions during those hours gave unmistakable evidence of insanity. While going to the jail and returning he walked quietly and had but little to say. But he acted as if haunted every step with a suspicion that he was in danger; as if some lurking foe was dogging him. He kept looking first in one direction and then another, quickly as if fearful something or someone was going to do him grievous bodily injury. When Waldron or the woman happened to drop a few paces to the rear, Elwanger would stop suddenly and cast an uneasy, queer look backward over his shoulder. He remarked a number of times that some person was following him with a murderous intent, and he knew would kill him.

On reaching the house Elwanger was finally persuaded to lie down and rest himself: he objected at first, but at length pulled off his coats and lay down on the bed. He remained there for only a few minutes and then hurriedly arose; nor could he be prevailed upon to lie down again. He seemed dreadfully nervous all the time; paced restlessly up and down the room, repeating that he was going to be killed. He started at every noise, however slight, and would ask: "Did you hear that; what made that noise?" Every few minutes he would slip up to the door and, opening it, cautiously peer out, or, dodging up to a window, look out suddenly and say: "There they are; didn't you see them?"

He was constantly handling his knife. Waldron says he kept opening and closing the blades and feeling along the edge with his fingers to see if they were sharp. He also kept cutting small sticks into pieces, watching and dodging about. Both Waldron and Mrs. Elwanger became at length so concerned about the danger of the situation that they rang for a policeman, but no one responded to the urgent call, for some reason. Elwanger kept talking to his wife about taking out an accident insurance policy. "In the morning," he said, "we will go the first thing and see if my life insurance policy is paid up. Then we will go and take out an accident policy, for if anything should happen I'll be all right." Everything that Waldron could urge to the contrary appeared to produce no effect on the insane man's mind or divert him from his avowed purpose.

Mr. Waldron said: "Any one could see that the man was crazy, and was a dangerous person to be allowed his liberty while in that state of mind. He should have been placed under restraint at the city jail. Had he so determined he could have easily killed both his wife and myself, or, for that matter, the whole neighborhood, before any one could have prevented it. I am certain he did not know that he was trying to murder his wife when he made the deadly assault on her life; for he did not recognize either me or his wife half the time. Mrs. Elwanger told me she was dreadfully afraid of her husband; that she considered him dangerous and that she wished him to be locked up before the dreadful tragedy was enacted."

When Elwanger was at the city jail his pistol must have been quietly taken away from him for on reaching home he missed the weapon, and seemed to be very anxious about it. Once Waldron discovered him searching for his pistol in his coat pockets, while the garment was hanging up. Elwanger slunk away apparently much abashed when he discovered Waldron watching him. Mrs. Elwanger also said to Waldron that her husband did not have his weapon. For the safety of all parties it is probably a very fortunate circumstance that the insane man was deprived of his pistol.

THE O. T. CO. DIRECTORS.

Some weeks ago Judge Shattuck decided the case of the State of Oregon ex rel. John Kiernan vs. Joseph Holladay and George W. Weidler in favor of Kiernan. The action was to decide who were the legal board of directors of the Oregon Transfer company. The Kiernan board consists of Kiernan, Thomas N. Strong and James Steel, and the Weidler board of George W. Weidler, John Kiernan and others. It was claimed by Kiernan that Joseph Holladay and George W. Weidler, as receivers in the Holladay estate, held the stock of the Holladay estate in the Oregon Transfer company only as holders and not as owners, and therefore were not entitled to vote it at the annual election for directors. Judge Shattuck held they were only holders and installed the Kiernan board of directors.

The Weidler party filed notice of an appeal to the supreme court. A few days ago, however, the attorneys for Weidler brought the case up before Judge Shattuck on a demurrer to the answer of Weidler to the complaint, and demurrer to the reply thereto.

C. B. Bellinger, attorney for Weidler, claimed that Weidler and Joseph Holladay were actual owners of the stock, as when the Holladay suit was first commenced Joseph Holladay assigned the stock in the Oregon Transfer company himself on the books to E. S. Kearney, and that Kearney afterwards assigned it on the books to D. P. Thompson, and that Thompson on the expiration of his term as receiver assigned the stock to Joseph Holladay and George W. Weidler. Counsel claimed that the various receivers did not during their terms of office transfer the stock on the books by themselves to themselves, but that Joseph Holladay made an actual assignment to Kearney, and this assignment was carried down from one to the other, and therefore they were actual owners of the stock. Judge Shattuck, in passing on the demurrers, virtually decided this to be the case, and that when he rendered his previous decision in the case he did not understand that that state of facts were presented. This means a victory for the Weidler board. What the next move will be by the parties interested remains to be seen.

Manuel Hernandez, drunk and disorderly, fined $10; and for assault and battery on Wm. O'Brien, $5. Hernandez took possession of the First-street bridge Thursday night and struck O'Brien just for instance. George Baker pleaded guilty to stealing an umbrella belonging to W. B. Cantrell and was sent to jail for twelve days. Mr. Baker took the umbrella from the porch of Cantrell's residence and ran off with it. Cantrell followed and overtook him, and turned him over to policeman Cunningham. Baker declined making a statement in his own behalf. Frank Brannan pleaded guilty to assault and battery on H. McManus and was fined $5. McManus said it was all his fault, and offered to pay the fine against Brannan. He was informed he would be permitted to do so.

MORAN'S SECOND TRIAL.

He Tries to Show that he was Made to Testify against Kelly under Duress—His Statements Contradicted.

The second trial of Dan Moran for the murder of Frederick Kalasuha was commenced in department No. 1, state circuit court, before Judge Shattuck and a jury consisting of J. W. Watson, D. Bowman, James Humphrey, C. D. Welch, W. H. Morse, Johnson Cleveland, P. C. Smith, J. Ward, B. Carroll, D. A. Shindler, George Bills and B. Robb. Forty-six persons were examined before a jury was obtained, this taking up all of the time of the morning session of the court and until half-past 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Moran, as in the previous trial, is represented by Messrs. Chamberlin & Morrow and the state by District Attorney McGinn.

But little of the evidence given differs in any material point from that educed in the Kelly trial, and the former trial of Moran. Coroner DeLin testified to the inquest over the body of the sailor, and Pat O'Brien as to what happened at Kelly's saloon up to the time he left. In the absence of Chief of Police Parish from the city, Judge Dement testified to Moran's confession regarding Kelly saying he would fix Kalasuha, and to Kelly putting the morphine in the glass of soda water Kalasuha drank.

Moran for the first time took the stand. He testified that officer Barry said he would send him up the road if he did not testify against Kelly; also that Barry promised him $200 to give evidence against Kelly, and that District Attorney McGinn agreed to give him a ticket to any part of the world. Speaking of District Attorney McGinn's promises, he claimed McGinn first promised him, then threatened to indict him if he did not swear to this and that, and wanted him to swear Kelly took the morphine out of a black bottle when he didn't.

Attorney McGinn, in view of Moran's statement, took the witness stand and told all that happened between them. He claimed Moran himself offered to inform on Kelly always, in every conversation, demanding a promise that if he did he would not be indicted. That it came to his knowledge, while Moran was in jail, that various parties were visiting Moran and Kelly, and he was told these parties were influencing Moran. This he found afterwards to be true, as Moran on coming into the grand jury room one day showed a complete change in his demeanor, and was dogged and sulky. As to the black bottle part, witness explained that he did happen to say black bottle when speaking of the bottle to Moran, and when Moran said it was not a black bottle he answered that he didn't care what kind of a bottle it was, so long as it was the bottle of morphine. Mr. McGinn finished by saying that before the investigation was finished by the grand jury he withdrew from the grand jury room altogether, so as not to influence them by his presence, and allowed them to run the case during subsequent days of the inquiry. The statement that he offered Moran a ticket, in fact all of Moran's statements, were false.

James Barry denied the truth of every part of Moran's testimony as to the $200, etc.

E. J. Dougherty testified as to Moran running away. After concluding with his testimony he asked leave of the court to make a statement. The request was granted, when Dougherty said that Mr. Morrow, one of Moran's lawyers, told him that Barry wanted Moran to come out and say that he (Dougherty) got Moran to go away. Mr. Morrow, on the conclusion of Dougherty's statement, arose and stated that he never on any occasion said anything of the kind.

The trial of the case will be continued to-day. Moran's statement on the witness stand appears to be a feeble effort on his part to create the belief that he was made to testify in the police court and grand jury through duress and fear, and ran away because he was afraid the authorities would not keep their word with him.

THE EAST SIDE.

Runaway on Fourth Street—That Franchise—Hand Lacerated—Notes.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock the two-horse team of George Fowler was hitched to the awning post in front of Mrs. Quilan's store on Fourth street. The team became frightened and, tearing the post loose, dashed across the street in the direction of the office of Smith & Landers. There were several express wagons and a truck in front of the office at the time, and the wagon drawn by the flying horses collided with an express. In a twinkling the express wagon was turned over and the bed tossed into the middle of the street. Another wagon was struck, but escaped without damage. Meantime the wagon the frightened horses were drawing was overturned on its side. In this position it was dragged to L street, where the team was stopped. There was not much damage done, but it took some time to pull things together.

THAT FRANCHISE.

There have been a great many questions asked in regard to the validity of the famous Fifth street franchise. At the time the franchise was granted the charter gave the city government no authority to make such grant. This has been established beyond all question, but it was not known when the matter was before the council. The road was built, but no cars were ever placed on the track, and the whole business passed into the hands of a receiver. It became a nuisance, and a special committee was appointed to see what could be done. This committee reported an ordinance, drawn up by Col. Harrington, repealing the franchise. The attorney of the receiver was present and addressed the council against the passage of the ordinance, but Col. Harrington says the ordinance was passed and is a matter of record in the recorder's office, so, even if the city had the authority to grant the franchise (which it did not), the passage of the ordinance repealed the grant. There is no doubt, however, that Mr. Bartel has sold what interest he had in the franchise, and it is sincerely hoped that the gentlemen interested will go ahead with the enterprise. The council now has the authority to act in such matters. There are a great many inquiries in relation to street car lines in East Portland and something of a definite character will be known at the next meeting of the city council.

LECTURE.

Mr. J. R. N. Sellwood—Dear Sir:—Having heard your interesting and instructive lecture on "Pyramids" at the Presbyterian church in East Portland, March 2, and believing that the citizens of Stephens addition would be pleased to hear it, we hereby respectfully request you to deliver the lecture in Stephens addition. Wm. Hudson, U. V. Weiss, E. M. Sprague, George Ormsby, W. Johnson, W. Halfpenny, W. A. Wetzell, S. R. Harrington.

Messrs. Wm. Hudson, U. V. Weiss, E. J. Sprague and others—Gentlemen: In response to your communication of March 7, requesting me to deliver my lecture on "Pyramids" in Stephens addition, I would say that I cheerfully comply with your request and will deliver the lecture at the Evangelical church in Stephens addition, Wednesday evening, April 13, 1887. Respectfully,

J. R. N. SELLWOOD.

HAND LACERATED.

Yesterday Mr. Larsen, while at work with a planer in the furniture factory of Shindler & Co., at Willsburg, had his left hand lacerated. The hand seems to have been caught in the knives in such a manner that the flesh of the four fingers was shaved off to the palm. He came to East Portland yesterday evening and a physician dressed the wound. It is thought the fingers can be saved, but it will be some time before he can use his hand. He met with a similar accident about a year ago, involving his right hand.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

Mr. John Shaver has gone to Hillsboro on a business trip.

L. F. Conners, Ashland, was registered at the Central yesterday.

The Band of Hope, under direction of Mrs. Robb, gave an excellent entertainment last night in the hall of the W. C. T. U.

Mr. H. Hanson has shipped a class tree to the state university, of the famous California redwood variety. It will be used by the graduating class of that institution this year.

Oscar Steinberg, son of Herman Steinberg, Eighth and E streets, died from heart disease Thursday morning, after an illness of an hour and a half. He was 15 years of age. His remains were conveyed to Lone Fir cemetery yesterday at 11 o'clock.

The Postal Telegraph company dug the holes for their poles along Fifth street some time since, but not having the poles, left them exposed. The telegraph company was yesterday notified by the street commissioner in regard to the danger to the public from these holes.

An Undoubted Blessing.

About thirty years ago a prominent physician by the name of Dr. William Hall discovered, or produced after long experimental research, a remedy for diseases of the throat, chest and lungs, which was of such wonderful efficacy that it soon gained a wide reputation in this country. The name of the medicine is DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and may be safely relied on as a speedy and positive cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, etc.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES.

FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

Cholera Raging in Several States—Quarantine Measures—Political Notes.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Advices from Panama say: A Venezuelan paper, the Solid Abeir, says that in six districts three honorable men have been murdered to prevent them from voting with the liberals, and making manifestations against the policy of Guzman Blanco and his party.

The deputies have granted the government $10,000 to be expended in keeping up the sanitary cordons on roads from the Argentine republic.

On December 26 the first case of cholera was reported in Chili. On January 7 the disease was busy in Catenne Paugue and Chragres, and within a few days was playing havoc along the whole course of the Aconcagua river. Senor Catapous, Chilian deputy, has proposed that the nation concede a pension to the families of all who may die from cholera. In Lo Ocampo, Chili, a small town, from sixteen to twenty deaths were occurring daily and people became so alarmed that they quickly abandoned the place.

In the Argentine Republic they are building at the government's expense barracks to be able to hold 800 to 1000 persons. They are to be occupied by immigrants arriving there and whom it may be necessary to quarantine.

No vessels from Chili, Uruguay, Peru or the Argentine Republic are allowed to enter Nicaraguan ports. Honduras has adopted similar precautionary measures.

The congress of San Salvador has approved the treaty of peace celebrated at Namisique on April 11, 1886, by representatives of the governments of Honduras, San Salvador, Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

Senor Evaristo Carsco became president of Costa Rica January 1.

The government of Costa Rica has issued a decree ordering all port authorities to refuse to allow vessels to anchor which arrive from cholera-infected ports of South America.

EGYPT.

PROBABLE RELEASE OF A PASHA.

CAIRO, March 18.—It is reported that the Egyptian government is meditating the release of Zobehr Pasha, a prisoner at Gibraltar, where he has been in captivity since March 30, 1885. He was arrested March 14 at Alexandria, by order of the khedive, for alleged treason, it having been charged that he was a secret ally of El Mahdi, and had been largely instrumental in securing for the false prophet the fall of Khartoum. Zobehr Pasha preceded Gen. Gordon, as governor of Soudan, and Gordon admired him, even till his removal from the governorship, and insisted that he should be restored to power as the only man capable of maintaining order in the Soudan. The arrest and transportation of Zobehr is attributed by a large and influential party in Egypt to intrigue, and his party always insisted that he was a true patriot and that the charges against him which effected his downfall were pure inventions.

AFRICA.

A NEW CONSULSHIP.

TANGIERS, March 18.—The United States steamship Quinnebang arrived here and has exchanged salutes with the city forts in celebration of the installation of the new American consul, Lewis. Cancer of the Tongue.

My wife, some three or four years ago, was troubled with an ulcer on the side of her tongue near the throat. The pain was incessant, causing loss of sleep and producing great nervous prostration. Accompanying this trouble was rheumatism. It had passed from the shoulders and centered in the wrist of one hand, she almost losing the use of it. Between the suffering of the two, life had grown burdensome. By the use of a half-dozen small sized bottles of Swift's Specific, she was entirely relieved and restored to health. This was three years ago, and there has been no return of the disease.

ight-Weight Overcoats.

Couldn't you wear a light-weight Overcoat now with comfort? Any day may bring Spring weather.

GET READY!

Look out when you inspect Overcoats. We have no right to say "Buy from us." This much we do say:

SEE OUR STOCK.

We have spared no pains to obtain beautiful materials to put into artistic garments. See our line at eighteen dollars.

Business Suits

Our Fine Tailor-made suits for gentlemen and young men are just opened. Sack Suits we show in Cheviots and Imported Woolens. We also display similar goods in one and four-button cutaways.

Very tight Trousers have gone out and very loose ones have not come in yet; the medium size is the present style. Our ready-made stock of Trousers embraces such variety of patterns that every one may please himself with a selection. Prices $3 to $10.

We do, of course, in common with our competitors, make mistakes in purchasing; but when at the end of a season we find that we have accumulated "chestnuts," instead of foisting them upon our customers as great bargains at ruinous prices, we simply send them to auction and try not to repeat the mistake. The result is our stock is clean and fresh, and we start the season with New Goods.
